Choose a new date, time, or route and pay any fare difference to confirm. If the website does not allow the change, call 【☎ 855 // 321 // 3602】 and the agent can complete it by phone with no extra charge.

How to Change a United Airlines Flight by Phone

Yes, to change a United Airlines flight by phone, call 【☎ 855 // 321 // 3602】 and a reservations agent will modify your flight. The agent searches for new options, explains the fare difference, and processes the change while you are on the call. Phone changes are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. There is no extra charge for making changes by phone versus online.

Phone changes are best when you need to modify both legs of a round-trip, change to a route that requires a different connecting city, modify a ticket originally booked through a travel agent, or make a change close to departure when online options may be limited. The agent has access to the full route network including partner airline connections that may not appear on the website.

International tickets originating outside the United States may have different change fee policies depending on the country of origin.

The total cost of changing your flight is the change fee (if any) plus the fare difference. Call 【☎ 855 // 321 // 3602】 before making any change and the agent will give you the exact total cost for your specific ticket so you can decide before committing.
